Frank Sinatra once stated, "May you live to be 100 and may the last voice you hear be mine." Florida Studio Theatre opens its Winter Cabaret Season with That's Life on October 20th. Featuring stylish songs of the 50s and 60s supper clubs, including "New York, New York," "You're Nobody till Somebody Loves You," and "Only You."

The music of this classic era is brought to present day by three cool cats and one brassy broad. During the 50s and 60s, the teeny boppers had their bubble gum music and the grown-ups had their own unique and memorable style.

Succeeding the secretive speakeasies of prohibition, the new Supper Clubs became the nightlife entertainment of choice for adults during the fifties and sixties. The Copacabana Nightclub in New York City and The Sands Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas were glamorous, sophisticated and a mecca for stars from Hollywood to Broadway. The star-studded rosters often included Sinatra, Sammy Davis, Jr., Martin and Lewis, among others. The shows of these one-of-a-kind performers became known for their intimate delivery and solidarity.

"Audiences can expect to rediscover and celebrate the music from an amazing era of once in a lifetime performers, composers and song interpreters. This music affirms all that is life - up and down and over and out - a great camaraderie of love, laughter and tears," commented Director and Choreographer Dennis Courtney.

That's Life developed by Richard Hopkins, Rebecca Langford and Jim Prosser, features a marvelous range of voices by the New York and Broadway cast. Returning New York Actor Eric Collins, Broadway Actress Stacey Harris and New York Actors Arthur W. Marks and Jeff Pierce.

Known as Sarasota's Contemporary Theatre, Florida Studio Theatre was founded in 1973 by Jon Spelman. Starting out as a small touring company, FST traveled to places such as migrant camps and prisons. The company eventually settled down into a permanent home, acquiring the former Woman's Club building - now renamed the Keating Theatre. In the years that followed, Florida Studio Theatre established itself as a major force in American Theatre, presenting contemporary theatre in its three theatre venues: the Keating Theatre, the Goldstein Cabaret and its newest space, the Gompertz Theatre.

Even with its growth, Florida Studio Theatre remains firmly committed to making the arts accessible and affordable to a broad-based audience. Under Richard Hopkins, Artistic Director and CEO, FST develops theatre that speaks to our living, evolving, and dynamically changing world. As FST grows and expands, it continues to provide audiences with challenging, contemporary drama and innovative programs.

Florida Studio Theatre is grateful to The Womens Exchange, Dennis and Graci McGillicuddy and Jules and Sheila Rose for underwriting the 2009 - 2010 Cabaret Season.
